

Table of Contents

APPOSITIVE RELATIONS 3

APPOSITIVE RELATIONS

The Appositive cases make a distinction between alienable versus inalienable possession or attribution, as well as distinguishing whether the possession is inherent to the possessor or imposed or caused from without.

- Mutual; whether more
 - Positive; signifying one thing either to have or not to have Relation to some other.
 - PERTINENCY , belong, appertain, apposite, to the purpose, touching, concern, material, relate to, serve for, incumbent on.
 - IMPERTINENCY , not to the purpose, extravagant, sleeveless, wide from the matter, wild, idle, improper.
- Being known; either to many or few.
 - PUBLIC, PUBLICKNES, Notorious, famous, common, extant, open, being out, or abroad, Declaration, Manifesto, Remonstrance, Edition, Promulgation, set forth or out, shew, spread, blazon, publish, proclaim, divulge, denounce, produce, post up, come to light, high way.
 - PRIVATE, PRIVATENESS, underhand, clancular, clandestine, retire, between themselves.
- Possessions whether separable or inseparable either quantitative or qualitative
 - alienable , removable , separable , non-integral part
 - inalienable , inseparable , integral part
- Concerning the ownership of other nouns , whether earned it or cause of it
 - legal property , alienable property
 - creator , designer , author , builder , maker , producer
 - interpretative , descriptive
 - representational
- Concerning the origins and goals of alienable or inalienable possessions
 - Origin , dative case , from ,
 - recipient , to , recipient ,
- Interdependent case
 - mutual dependency of biological nouns , agent to agent relations
 - mutual dependency of objects , part to part relations , CONTAINMENT
- Acting as a static role
 - decorative role
 - content , containment , possessive role , part

From:

<http://www.source.mantrakshar.co.in/> - Kshtrgyn

Permanent link:

http://www.source.mantrakshar.co.in/doku.php/en/material_directedness

Last update: 2024/08/04 08:44

